Dear Sir:

Very truly yours,

Yours

Very truly yours,

John George Gill was called "George" to distinguish him from other John Gills. After many years of searching I have found nothing about his ancestry, nothing about his background, where he came from or where he was born. In the Stowell Genealogy, by Wm. H. Stowell, published in 1922, a brief mention of "a daughter of Jacob Stowell married John Gill" was the first clue to the connection between the Gill and Stowell families. In researching the Houghton family of Windsor, Vt., I learned that Darius Houghton had married Almira Gill of Windsor. Vital records obtained from Vermont revealed that Almira (Gill) Houghton had named a son Giles Gill Houghton, after her brother, Giles Gill. This was confirmed by a great-granddaughter of Almira (Gill) Houghton, Mrs. Flora (Houghton) Carter of Peotone, Ill., then, in the 1960s, in her nineties, who clearly remembered Almira (Gill) Houghton and related to me much information about Darius and Almira (Gill) Houghton.

Inquiries to the town clerk of Windsor, Vt., Miss Katharine Conlon, and a further search of Windsor records showed that Giles Gill had bought land at Canton, St. Lawrence Co., N.Y. and removed there in the early 1830s. Miss Conlin sent me a copy of Jacob Stowell's will, wherein he mentioned his "grandson Giles Gill" who was to receive a share of the estate of Jacob Stowell when Giles reached the age of twenty one. Jacob Stowell died in 1806 and at that time Giles was 17 years old. On Oct. 5, 1810, Giles Gill quitclaimed his interest in his grandfather's estate to Alvin Marcy and Joel Stowell for the sum of $944.50.

Early in 1963 I wrote to Mrs. Nina W. Smithers, at that time the St. Lawrence Co. Historian, asking for any information about the Gill family of Canton, N.Y. and she gave me the name of Clifford Gill, a descendant of Giles. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gill were very helpful and gave me the name of the Plaindealer, the newspaper of Canton. I contacted the editor of the paper, asking for information about obituaries and he advised me to get in touch with Mr. Atwood Manley of Canton, former editor of the paper and an excellent historian. I did that and Mr. Manley not only knew the Gill family, but offered to do research there for me. His offer was gladly accepted and in a few months time he had collected every bit of data pertaining to Giles Gill and his descendants and had furnished me with a copy of his will. Also, he gave me the name of John R. Gilmore of San Francisco, Cal., a great-great-grandson of Giles, and a copy of an obituary showing that Giles S. Gill, Jr., had moved to Cresco, Iowa, in 1883. A letter to the postmaster at Cresco, Ia., inquiring about Gill families was forwarded to Dr. H. E. Gill, of Knoxville, Iowa and he sent me as much data as he had, explaining that he had very little knowledge about the family, except what was contained in a few old letters, the cemetery records at Cresco, and that all contact had been lost many, many years before with any of the family.

In 1963 I wrote to John R. Gilmore of San Francisco, Cal., and his son, Read P. Gilmore, answered stating all the information they had about the Gill family was contained in their family Bible. He copied the data from the Bible and sent it to me.

Here is what was written in the Bible:

John George Gill, born 1755 died Mar. 25, 1793.
 wife Huldah Stockl (Bible spelling) born 1760 died
 Dec. 21, 1792.

daughter Almira (Almira) born 1783
 son Giles Gill born Oct. 1, 1789.

Here is what George Gill said about his wife
 "My wife died December 21st 1792 aged 32 years.
 She died of consumption. Buried on Lordesday ye 23 a sermon by Mr. Shuttleworth from Job 30 ch 31"

My harp also is tuned
 to mourning and my organ
 into the voice of them that weep."

Here is what is written about George Gill in the Bible. This is exact according to spelling, Grammar, &c. Words in parentheses are my additions.

"George Gill died March 25th 1793. After a long and lingering Confumption (consumption)
 in the blood the diurbentor (diabetes) in the blood water until he wafe (was) reduced to the most (most) perfect skeleton (skeleton) ever since seen by any of our Doctors or neighbors (neighbors) in this part and at last (last) cramp and conultion (convulsion) fite (fit) in the most (most) excruciating distress (distress) ever beheld ended his (his) life. The funeral attended by Mr. Guet - a blind man."

Copied from the Bible by Read P. Gilmore, of San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 25, 1963.

Beyond the Bible records nothing further can be learned about John George Gill. He may have served in the Revolutionary War, but if he did I can find no record of it. Where he and his wife are buried is not known, although it is thought that some unmarked graves in the Houghton cemetery at Windsor, Vt., could be theirs as Jacob and Beulah (Livermore) Stowell are buried there.

This work is far from complete, but time is running out for me. Over the past 20 years data has been gathered from many correspondents, vital records, census records, wills wherever they were available, gravestones, mortuary records, obituaries and personal interviews. If anything in these pages can be of help to anyone, I will be glad to share with them.

309-(6) Lily L. (Johnson) Brandt.

 A fifth child died in infancy. No record.

In the fall of 1845, Leland Houghton, called "Captain", with his wife and children Franklin, Olive and Herrick, who was only a few months old, came by way of the Lakes to Chicago, Ill. But, as he did not wish to locate in what he called "that mud-hole" he removed to a farm in Wheatland, Will Co., near Aurora, Ill. A son, Sidney, was born there Mar. 3, 1850. About 1854, Leland and his family removed to Rockville, Kankakee Co., Ill. (now Will Co.) where they lived until 1874, when they removed to Gilman, Ill. where they spent their remaining years.

His parents, Darius and Almira (Gill) Houghton, had come to Ill. with him and lived with him in Wheatland. His father died there Apr. 25, 1866, and his mother continued to live with him until 1874, when he removed to Gilman, Ill. She then went to live with her daughter, Nancy, (Mrs. David Mungle), in Metamora, Woodford Co., Ill. where she died ~~Sept.~~ 18, 1876, aged 83 y. 2 m. 11 d.

Leland Houghton lived to the age of 74 years and his wife was 66 years old at the time of her death, July, 1876.

He was a Whig and later a Republican.

He was a descendant of John and Beatrix Houghton who came from Eaton Bray, Bedfordshire, England, about 1647 to 1650 and settled at Lancaster, Mass. His wife was a descendant of William Ripley who, in 1638, with his wife, two sons and two daughters came from Wymondham, Co., Norfolk, England, and settled at Hingham, Mass. She was a daughter of Vine and Lois (Crampton) Ripley.

Vital Records of Vermont show Leland Houghton in Mendon, Vt., Feb. 18, 1839, on list of jurors; Feb. 10, 1840, Hay Wavor; Mar. 1, 1842, first constable; Feb. 15, 1843, one of Trustees of Surplus Money; and Mar. 12, 1844, town agent, also a petit juror.

The Gilmore family is directly descended from the noted French Poinsetta family, one of whom became Secretary of State, under President George Washington. It is from them the Poinsetta flower got it's name.

They were intimates of the Marquis LaFayette, who, on his last visit to this country, brought the so-called "Lafayette Chair" as a gift to the Secretary of State. This chair came down to the family of Fred and Luthera Gilmore who sold it to Atwood Manley of Canton, N.Y. He sold it to Mrs. Millard Jencks whose husband later became President of St. Lawrence University of Canton, N.Y. Mrs. Jencks still had this chair in her possession in 1963 in her apartment in Upper Montclair, N.J.

Justice of the Peace

Know all men by these presents : That we Hazen W Bradley of Cincinnati Ohio and William Bradley of Windsor Vermont children of Ellen C Houghton (formerly Bradley) , do hereby request Reuben A Barber Executor of the last will and testament of Giles Gill, late of the town of Canton in the County of S't Lawrence, New York, deceased, to pay over to said Ellen C Houghton the sum of $400, being the sum, the use of which, was bequeathed to the said Ellen C Houghton by the will of said Giles Gill deceased, and which said sum was bequeathed, after the decease of said Ellen C Houghton , to said Hazen Bradley and William Bradley; and we do hereby agree that the receipt of the said Ellen C Houghton or her attorney for the said legacy of $400 shall be a full and complete voucher and discharge to the said Executor for the said legacy; and we do hereby in consideration of the payment of said sum and legacy to said Ellen C Houghton her assigns or attorney, release and forever quit-claim the said Reuben A Barber from all liability by reason of such legacy; and do hereby consent that upon such payment being made as herein specified a full and complete discharge may be granted to said Executor by the Surrogate's Court of S't Lawrence County without other or further notice to us or either of us whatever.

Surrogate's Court St Lawrence County
In the matter of the accounting of Reuben
W. Barber, an Executor of the last Will & Testament
of Giles Gill, deceased

Edwin C. Conantou. (formerly Bradley)
one of the execs of Kin, and also trustee named in the Will of Giles Gill, the above named deceased, contesting the account filed by Reuben W. Barber Executor of the Will of said deceased,
alleges that said account is erroneous,
and she objects to the same upon the
following grounds to-wit:
First - That it does not include, and charge said Executor with, the full amount due and payable as stated in the inventory of the estate of said
deceased, filed in the Surrogate's Office,
of a bond and mortgage given by one Edward Gill, to to said deceased; and which amount was collected, or might have been collected, by said
Executor on said bond and mortgage - second - That it does not include nor charge said Executor with the full amount of a certain promissory note mentioned in said account, given by one Giles & Gill to said deceased for the sum of $1300 on thereabouts, and which said note might have been collected by said Executor, had he used due diligence therefor =

Third = Said Executor is not charged in said account with the full amount of interest on two several promissory notes, one for $100 and the other for $50, given by said executor to said deceased prior to his death =

Fourth = Said said estate should not be charged with the several amounts of $100 and $223.50 claimed in said account as a disbursement under the head of "Bequest" and "Residuary interest on same" to Giles & Gill, the said Giles & Gill being indebted to said estate upon his promissory note given for $1300 as mentioned in said account. Such note should have been offset against such "Bequest" and "Residuary" to the full amount thereof. —

Fifth = Said estate should not be charged with the amount in said account stated as a disbursement under date of March 2nd 1871. to Giles S Gill bill of $177.50. as said bill was then indebted to said estate upon his promissory note given for $300 or a renewal thereof as hereinbefore stated. —

Sixth. — said estate should not be charged with the amount in said account stated as a disbursement to Giles S Gill under date of January 25th 1879 for "Cash paid on finally place 14 years ago" and interest on the same in the total sum of $200; as the same was not a legal charge upon said estate, and if it had been legal in its inception, it was then barred by the Statute of Limitations; and had the same been a valid claim against said estate, the note mentioned in the fourth and fifth objections given by said Giles S Gill should have been offset against the same to the full amount of such claim. —

Seventh. — said estate should not be charged with the amount of $191.82 for executors fees charged in said account, but such amount should be reduced by the amount of fees charged upon the claims of disbursements herein before objected to. —

Eighth. — It is further objected that the account of said executor can not be judicially settled, until he has paid over to said Ellen C. Houghton (formerly Bradley) the legacy of $400 to which she is entitled by the provisions of the will of said deceased Ninth. — It is further objected that the account of said executor can not be so settled until he has disposed of, or converted into money, the note of or claim against Giles & Gill now in said executor's hands as stated in said account. —
